Recognition of Academic Excellence (RAE) for Eminent Medical, Biomedical and Dental Scientists, 2025

Guidelines

National Academy of Medical Sciences (India) “Recognizes Academic Excellence” (RAE) among eminent scientists in the field of Medical, Biomedical and Dental Sciences. The selected medical and bio-medical scientists must have distinguished themselves through high-quality research in their respective fields. The scientists selected for “Recognizes Academic Excellence” RAE will be honored at the Annual Conference of NAMS (NAMSCON) to be held on October/November 2025.

Fellows of the National Academy of Medical Sciences (India) can apply for the recognition of academic excellence by themselves. In addition, NAMS Fellows / Vice-Chancellor of recognized universities/ Directors/ Principals/ Deans of various institutions can propose the name of any person who is not a Fellow of the Academy.

All applications will be evaluated by a Selection Committee, which will evaluate each component of the application on its merit before giving final recommendation. Final selections will be made by the NAMS Council, after taking into consideration recommendations of the Selection Committees constituted for this purpose.
